STEWARDSHIP THOUGHTS FOR YOU...

- * True treasure lies not in what one receives,
but in what one gives!
- * Given away lavishly, life comes back abundantly!
- * A good steward doesn't say,
"I have so little I can't afford to give much," but, "I have so much I can't afford to give little!"

Martin Luther on DIVINE TIMING. Luther said there are two kinds of people: one kind tries hard to be successful but is not; the other kind achieves everything they plan because the plans have been given divine timing an incredible and joyous experience grounded in a faith.

God's Timing Means Everything. If God is kindly disposed to a man and gives him success, he can often accomplish more in one hour without care and anxiety than another man in four whole days with great care and anxiety. Whereas the one has dragged on with his anxiety and made it tedious for himself, the other has disposed of it in an hour. Thus no one can accomplish anything except when the hour comes that God gives us as a free gift without our anxiety. It is vain for you to try to anticipate and with your concern to work out what you think are great schemes... the clock will not strike one before it has struck twelve; evening cannot come before the day is over; one must be a child before growing old; one cannot pick berries at Christmastime but one must wait until they are in season. Events have their appointed time, and human thought cannot produce them at will. But evil, the devil, always lies in wait as soon as one is baptized.
